

Stryker A1

- Key Upgrades
 - Increased 450-horsepower engine
 - Improved 60,000-pound suspension
 - Increased electrical power
 - Digital vehicle architecture
- Stryker A1 Modernization Program Efforts
 - Stryker A1 common chassis supports the U.S. Army's emerging operational needs for DE-MSHORAD, M-SHORAD and Command Post.
 - U.S. Army is pure-fleeting all six of nine Stryker Brigade Combat Teams to A1 configuration

Stryker is the Army's Largest and Most Reliable Combat Vehicle Fleet